Byrd Hits Cost-Of-Living Increases For Congress

WASHINGTON - Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Jr., Ind-Va., attacked legislation granting automatic cost-of-living pay boosts to members of Congress.

"This insulates the Congress from inflation, and Congress is a major cause of inflation," Byrd said.

The cost-of-living increase was approved by Congress, and President Ford has announced that he will sign it.

"The federal government is running a deficit of $70 billion for the current year, on top of a $44 billion deficit for the year that ended June 30. Deficit spending measures approved by the Congress created those deficits.

"Those huge deficits, in turn, are fueling the fires of inflation," Byrd declared.

"I think it is very bad policy to insulate the members of Congress from the inflationary consequences of their own actions.

"Only about 15 percent of U.S. workers are covered by automatic cost-of-living pay increase provisions. To include Congress in this group separates Congress from 85 percent of the American working people," he said.

Byrd also criticized the tactics used to bring the pay raise bill before the Senate.

"This legislation was attached at the last minute to an unrelated bill governing safety regulations for postal workers.

"The pay increase proposal was not given the usual careful consideration. It was rammed through the Congress in two days," Byrd declared.

The legislation approved last week also provides automatic cost-of-living pay hikes for all federal officials except the President earning $36,000 or more. The cost this year will be between $34 million and $50 million.

Transco Reports Net Income Up

HOUSTON, TX - July 22 - Net income of Transco Companies, Inc., for the second quarter of 1975 was $9,585,818, up from $7,381,964 in the same period last year. Income amounted to 43c per common share, compared with 33c in last year's second quarter.

Operating revenues for the quarter were $143,002,662, compared with $123,070,647 in the 1974 quarter.

For the six months ended June 30, 1975, revenues were $288,919,881 and income was $22,192,316 or $1 per common share. In the same period last year the comparable figures were $255,116,990, and $16,414,003, and 74c.

The improved results reflect rate increases on July 1, 1974, and February 1, 1975.

As a result of the continuing shortfall in supplies, deliveries to customers are being curtailed more this year than last, according to W. J. Bowen, president of Transco.

"The amount we may offer for new onshore supplies of natural gas is held to an unrealistically low level by regulation of the Federal government. Consequently, we have been relegated to competing for supplies offshore, the only other domestic source. We believe Transco's aggressive program to obtain new offshore reserves, where we have price parity, will begin to relieve the problem in two to three years," Bowen said.

Transco, through its pipeline subsidiary, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, owns and operates a major interstate pipeline system for the purchase, sale, and transportation of natural gas from Texas and Louisiana to the eastern United States. Through Transeo Exploration Company, it is engaged in exploration for oil and gas both onshore and offshore in the U.S. Transco also is pursuing projects for obtaining pipeline-quality gas from synthetic sources and importation of liquefied natural gas from foreign sources.

Patients And Families Learn About Lung Diseases

Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, regional program director, announced recently that the Virginia Lung Association Central Region in cooperation with Virginia Baptist Hospital will sponsor a series of educational programs for chronic pulmonary disease patients and their families. The series is designed to help them to better understand the disease and how to live with it.

Individuals who have chronic lung diseases such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis and asthma will have an opportunity to hear Lynchburg doctors and respiratory therapists discuss these diseases with a question and answer period to follow. There is no charge for the program series. Interested members of the public will be welcome.

The program, endorsed by the medical staff of Virginia Baptist Hospital will consist of five one-hour sessions to be held each Thursday evening in October beginning at 7:30 p.m. The first session on October 2, and following sessions will be held in the auditorium of Virginia Baptist Hospital.

For further information about the series call 845-8016.

Eye Bank Announces Pledges

RICHMOND - Pledges from approximately 6,000 Virginians wishing to donate their eyes on death to a blind person were received by the Old Dominion Eye Bank during the past twelve months, according to information released this week by R. Kenneth Hudgins, executive director of the Eye-Bank.

At the end of June, 1975, the Eye Bank had 62,015 pledge cards on file, Hudgins said, most of them were obtained by members of Lions Clubs in Northeastern Virginia.

During this same twelve month period, he said, 132 corneal transplants were performed using eye tissue supplied by the Old Dominion Eye Bank.

Eye tissue which is donated, on death, by a person with poor eyesight, it is stated, can be used in a safe and effective manner for corneal transplants, as well as tissue from the eye of a person with perfect vision.

Hudgins explained that anyone wishing to donate their eyes, on death, for the purpose of restoring sight, to a blind individual can do so by signing a pledge card from any office of the Virginia Lions, or by contacting the Old Dominion Eye Bank, 408 North Boulevard Street, Richmond, Va. 23219.

Beauty And The Beast

by Miss Susan Williamson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Williamson of Appomattox. She is presently a student at Longwood College where she is majoring in Elementary Education. For the past summers she has been a Appomattox Court House National Park as a park ranger/interpreter. She has been instrumental in helping with this summer's successful horse program which involves the training of the beast, Julianna, through the Park and its visitors. One of the primary goals of the program is to educate the public about the horse and talk with visitors to the Park. In her spare time she enjoys riding and does this by use of 1860's transportation, Julianna, pulling a buggy. Sue is willing to add a touch of the village's old look to the Park when asked. "What the horse program has meant to me," she remarked, "The combination of getting to work with and the opportunity to meet people has provided me with some of the most valuable and worthwhile experiences of my life."

St. Luke

The annual homecoming services at the St. Luke Baptist Church for Sun., Aug. 3 was well attended by homecomers and friends from all areas and as far south as Florida, made for an overflowing crowd and a lovely day. The church was full pass capacity, people standing & sitting in the Sunday school rooms, and all around.

The Rev. McLaughlin delivered a great message, a beautiful story on "How to Prepare For a Homecoming". This was well taken by the listeners. Choir No. 2 gave the music. The Junior Ushers were on duty. The ladies of the church and well wishers served a delightful dinner, which was enjoyed by the guests.

The Rev. Haywood Robinson and his choir from the Diamond Hill Baptist Church of Lynchburg were in charge of the evening services. Rev. Robinson brought out the picture of "Having a Good Time in Church". The music by the choir was beautiful.

The offerings for the day were bountiful. Mrs. Sadie Graves the chairman of the gifts for the memorial of loved ones and members and friends made a contribution, this amount was $1,783.39. The other offerings which were made for the day were $3,189.89.

Mrs. A. H. Clayton, Mrs. Mary Hamlette, Mr. and Mrs. James Tweedy and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott had out-of-town relatives to visit them for the homecoming. The Rev. and Mrs. Robinson were week end visitors with Mrs. G. T. Walker.

The Rev. H. Robinson is the evangelist for this week at St. Luke. All are invited to come and take part in these series of meetings. Green Spring, Hat Creek, Tree Springs, Evergreen and Mt. Zion are the guest churches to participate each night of the revival.

Mrs. Ida Daniels, sister of Mr. Charles H. Canada, is back at her son's home in Pamplin. Mr. W. Haskins, recovering from an illness of six weeks now. Hope for her a hasty recovery.

Mrs. L. M. Canada is still on nursing duty in Brookneal.

Good Tomato Crop

Mr. Charles Scruggs is shown above with a basket of tomatoes grown in his garden. One weighed 3 pounds, two ounces and three weighed over 3 pounds each.

These tomatoes were grown from Abraham Lincoln seed that came from West Virginia and topped his crop of last season as the largest last year weighed only 2 and ½ pounds. This brand has very little acid and very few seeds.

According to Mr. Scruggs, he did not water them or give them any special attention.

Wanted: Girl Scout Leaders

It is said that people need to feel wanted; that people need to be asked. Well, that's exactly what Girl Scouts are counting on to help their "Wanted Girl Scout Leaders" campaign succeed this fall.

They need adult volunteers, women and men who enjoy working in partnership with girls. They need to reach those untapped resources in the community who may just be waiting to be asked - who would like to share their talents, find friendship, and have fun.

It's almost a cliche to say that Girl Scouting has much to offer to young people, but what is not so well recognized is that it also has a great deal to offer adults. Each year about 300,000 volunteers receive training in leadership and other skills from the organization - one of the most comprehensive adult education programs in the nation. Giving volunteers all the help they require is a big plus, but Girl Scouting's greatest appeal for adults is the knowledge that they are really wanted.

Right now in our area there are girls ages 6 through 17 who cannot join Scouting because there are not enough leaders participating in the program. You can help a youngster be a Girl Scout by becoming one yourself. Find out how by getting in touch with your local Girl Scout council - they're waiting for you.

If you are interested please contact: Mrs. Eunice Paulette.

Speeding Arrests Up

RICHMOND - State Police speeding arrests for the first half of 1975 climbed to 110,896, well above the 55,374 and 72,271 for the same periods of 1973 and 1974, Colonel H. W. Burgess, the Department's Superintendent, announced recently.

He said the arrests were for all types of speed law violations and not only for those of the 55 mile per hour limit, although the great majority was for the latter type.

Deaths for the first half of 1975 numbered 452 or 13 less than for the first six months of 1974. Traffic volumes were up from four to five per cent. Arrests of commercial drivers for speeding numbered 16,151 during the period.

Colonel Burgess stated that he felt apathy on the part of motorists and an apparent lack of concern over the energy problem were heavily contributing factors.
